

ELSA Spain Summer Law School 2010

The European Law Students' Association (ELSA) holds a Summer Law School from 11.-15.8.2010 in Marbella/Spain, organized by an international team of ELSA Spain. Subject this time is the Lisbon Treaty which is in power since 1.11.2009.

EU Law students from many European countries including Georgia, Russia and the Balkan will be present during this week. The event includes also lectures by Hans-Jürgen Zahorka from LIBERTAS - European Institute, among others about social exclusion and poverty and the external relations of the EU, about the right to veto of any Member State in new accession cases which is more and more questionable, about the necessary amendments or modifications to the Lisbon Treaty and about the principle of Cassis-de-Dijon today - the EU Single Market and its attraction towards the outside world.

One workshop will be entitled "European Union Foreign Affairs Journal Workshop", as EUFAJ contributes to the success of this event - with a later publication and real "Crème cassisée", the fruit liquor which was at the beginning of the ECJ's Cassis-de-Dijon case and the Single Market in 1978/9.

More information see under ELSA Spain's special website for the Summer School 2010: www.wix.com/jajorma/esls-10