

Martin J. Pontzen

The economist, who obtained a Dr. rer. pol. (Ph. D.) degree at Johann-Wolfgang-Goethe-University Frankfurt/Main, works since 1988 in various departments of the Deutsche Bundesbank (German Federal Bank), today as Bundesbank Director (in the Centre for Technical Central Bank Cooperation as consultant to foreign central banks) in Frankfurt/Main, after having been for several years First Secretary in the German Embassy in Moscow/Russia, as Counsellor and Representative of Deutsche Bundesbank (Attaché responsible for representing the Central Bank in Russia). Lecturing not only at the Bank Academy in Frankfurt/Main but also during very many assignments in third countries, at universities or before other audiences, mainly on monetary issues.